

Kingly Partners Job Opportunity*Central London Investment Agent

Kingly Partners is offering a unique opportunity to join their well-established boutique agency based in the heart of Soho. The role will be varied and will suit someone who enjoys both independent work and thrives in a team environment.

Kingly Partners is a Central London Property, Investment and Development Agency formed in 2007. The Partners have extensive knowledge of London providing advice to institutional and private investors, developers and owner-occupiers.

Prior investment agency experience is not essential and we are keen to hear from someone with two to eight years of experience in the property industry.

This is a full time role with support and encouragement from the Partners to build relationships with agents and clients alike. The opportunity exists to create individual success progressing towards joining the Partnership in the future. Salary will be commensurate with experience, in addition to an annual performance related bonus and private healthcare insurance.

Please send a CV with covering letter to Paul Rowntree - pr@kinglypartners.com. To discuss the opportunity in confidence, please call Paul Rowntree (020 7858 6863) or Sam Stevens (020 7858 6862).
